

- I really get            with my new classmates; we share many interests.
- They decided to get            for the weekend to relax by the beach.
- He tried to cheat on the test, but he didn't get            it.
- Even with a small salary, she manages to get            each month.
- It took her a long time to get            the loss of her pet.
- The old building will be pulled            to make space for a park.
- The police officer asked the driver to pull            to the side of the road.
- Don't throw            those papers; you might need them later.