Teenage Advice Forum

Dear Esmé,

I can't sleep, and my friends at school say you can help me with this problem. Last night, I was at home with my parents. We were watching a concert on TV, and my brother was staying at my uncle's house. Mum and Dad went to bed around 9.30 p.m., and I went up at 10 p.m. I quickly fell asleep, but I woke up about an hour later, at 11 p.m. I felt tired, but I just couldn't sleep, so I got up and went back down to the living room. I sat on the sofa and drank some coffee, then I listened to a lot of hip-hop, but I still didn't feel sleepy. I watched an action film and got to sleep again at 2.30 a.m.

Why couldn't I get to sleep last night, Esmé? How much sleep do I need? Please help!

Gaston, 15

Dear Gaston,

Teenagers need more sleep than adults, around nine hours every night. But scientists think that a lot of teenagers do not get enough sleep, and I'm sorry you didn't sleep well last night. I know you were trying, and it was a good idea to go downstairs for a while, but it's important to do some relaxing things, if you can. For example, you were drinking coffee, which is something that keeps people awake, and coffee can give you a stomachache too. Also, hip-hop and action films are too noisy. Sorry! Next time, just get up and do some yoga, or try to read for a while. Good luck!
