My aunt has an interesting job. She's a makeup artist. A makeup artist can make a movie star look old or young. She can also use makeup to make someone look like an animal or a different person. I saw a photo of my aunt when she did her own face. She looked like a bad man from a children's movie. She usually has long, blond hair, and blue eyes. But in the photo, she had a long, black beard, a mustache, and brown eyes. I don't know how she did it, but I guess that's why she's called an "artist."

When we were little children, our parents looked after us and helped us choose our clothes and do our hair. But when we turn 14 or 15, we usually want to try new things. We learn what we like and don't like, and we begin to live our own lives. Some of us change the way we look. If our hair is short, we grow it long. If our hair is straight, we make it curly. Some people like to look very different from other people. For example, they have long purple hair or spiky orange hair. I think it's fun and exciting to try different things. Trying different things is just part of being a teen.
