True/False

Indicate whether the statement is true or false.

Read the article. Read each sentence. Decide if the statement is T (true) or F (false).

When people from different countries came to the United States in the late 1800s, they couldn't all speak the same language. But some played music, and soon people from Europe and Africa began to communicate by playing music together. The result? Jazz music. Jazz is a style of music that comes from traditional African and European songs. The more people played music together, the more the music changed and became its own style. Jazz became very popular by the 1920s, and people still enjoy listening to jazz today.

Read the passage. Then complete the sentences.

Can you do your homework with music on? Some people like to listen to music when they study. They say it helps them. Others have an aversion to music when they're trying to read or do math. For people who listen to music when they study, there are different kinds of music that they really like. Some people like classical music the best. They don't want to hear any words, but they like listening to the instruments. Others like pop or rock better. They don't get tired when they're listening to these types of music. If you've never listened to music when you study, maybe you should try it. And try different styles of music, too. You'll learn if music helps you, or if being quiet is the best.
