How are you? Did I tell you that I went bike riding with my cousins this summer in France? We were there for two weeks, and we rode about 25 kilometers every day. We felt sore and tired, but it was a lot of fun. The French countryside was beautiful, and we saw some amazing places. The weather was mostly good, but one day it started to rain while we were riding. We found a cafe not too far down the road, so we hung out there and enjoyed some delicious French food until the rain stopped. All right, tell me about your summer. Are you ready for school to start again?
