

PRESENT CONTINUOUS

We use the Present Continuous Tense when talking about things that are happening right now or around the current time.

POSITIVE	NEGATIVE	QUESTION
I am eating. You are eating. We are eating. They are eating. He is eating. She is eating. It is eating.	I am not eating. You aren't eating. We aren't eating. They aren't eating. He isn't eating. She isn't eating. It isn't eating.	Am I eating? Are you eating? Are we eating? Are they eating? Is he eating? Is she eating? Is it eating?

Rewrite the sentences in present continuos affirmative, negative and interrogative.

1- She walks to school.

.....

.....

.....

2- They play outside now.

.....

.....

.....

3- The cat sleeps in the kitchen.

.....

.....

.....