Part 2

My clothing business

Esra

I started selling my things online three years ago. I used to make clothes for my family and friends, who loved the styles I made. When I was 18, I bought a machine to help me produce more and started advertising on social media. The first things I made weren't brilliant, but I've improved since then, and that's the most important thing for me. My customers are lovely, and they always tell their friends about me. If I continue to have the same success, I will soon need to employ someone to help me!

Piotr

My customers have their own ideas for the clothes they buy, so it's important that I find the right materials. At weekends, I look for ideas online and spend the week working. It's not easy working seven days a week! My customers are really pleased with the results. When I first began making things, I used to get angry with myself if they weren't perfect, but my family said 'keep trying and everything will be OK', and they were right!

Molly

I don't sell as many things as I would like because I only started a few months ago. I'm very pleased with the clothes I make, but I don't know what my customers think of them. I often go to charity shops to find items I can make into something else. Sometimes my family or friends give me old clothes and ask me to make something new from them. I want to start advertising my clothes on social media, and once I have a page, I will. I hope that my business will develop better then.

Read the questions (1–6) and match them to the correct text about making and selling clothes (A–C).

- 1 Who has been happy with their products?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly
- 2 Who says their customers tell them what they want?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly
- 3 Who wants to give someone a job?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly
- 4 Who uses other people's clothes?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly
- 5 Who likes their customers?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly
- 6 Who says their job is difficult?
A Esra B Piotr C Molly

Part 3

Six sentences are missing from this text. Choose the correct sentence (A–G) for each gap (1–6). There is one extra sentence which you do not need to use.

Holiday worries

There's something about getting ready for a holiday that makes me worried and I don't know why because I love holidays. But every year I have the feeling that we have forgotten to do or take something.

I know when we get to where we're staying, we'll have a good time, we always do. ¹ However, I try not to let this feeling turn our holiday into a negative experience.

We always prepare carefully. ² Then we start putting everything into our 'holiday box'. I usually begin doing this a few weeks before we travel.

We make sure that everyone who needs to know we are going away has the dates of our trip.

..... ³ However, they can reach me if something important happens.

My wife always checks that we have the correct travel documents. ⁴ The children's task is to find interesting places to go.

My children don't know why I get so worried and often joke about it. ⁵ I started to look everywhere until I heard him laughing with the rest of the family. As you can imagine, I didn't find it funny at all.

I'm sure I'm not the only person who dislikes the stress of holidays. ⁶ I imagine there is one somewhere. But for now, I'll try to stop worrying and enjoy my holidays.

- A The reply on my work email says, 'out of office', so my colleagues know.
- B One year my son told me he didn't have his passport.
- C One day, I'll look for a social media group so I can discuss my feelings with other people.
- D But when we prepare to go, I really wish we were staying at home.
- E I always try to think about what each family member needs from the holiday.
- F We make a list of all the things we need to get ready.
- G My job is to make sure we know how to get to the hotel.

Part 4

Read the article about sleep. For each question (1–4), choose the correct answer (A, B, or C).

Sleeping

We often hear that the best amount of sleep is eight hours. But is this actually true? Some people sleep much longer, and others say they feel great with only five or six hours. New parents sometimes have to manage with even less!

Researchers asked 40,000 people about their sleeping habits. They discovered that those who sleep fewer than six hours don't think clearly or explain things well compared with those who sleep eight hours. Surprisingly, people who sleep for longer than that have similar problems with their thinking and speaking abilities.

But getting a good night's sleep isn't always easy. Some people go to bed and lie awake for hours. Others fall asleep and then wake up again later. Some people complain that they wake up in the morning feeling tired. This may be because they have slept, but not very well.

So what causes these problems? A heavy meal or a headache can cause us to lie awake, but many people find that stress is the biggest factor. Thoughts about work or relationships go round in our heads and stop us from sleeping well.

Is there anything we can do? Going to bed at the same time every night is a good idea. Certain foods may keep you awake so eat your evening meal early. Some people think 'blue light' from screens keeps our brain awake, but not everyone agrees with this.

1 In the first paragraph, what does the writer say about sleep?

- A It isn't true that we need eight hours' sleep.
- B We don't all sleep the same number of hours.
- C Parents of young children don't need much sleep.

2 In the third paragraph, what does 'this' refer to?

- A feeling tired in the morning
- B waking up in the night
- C getting a good night's sleep

3 The reason most people have difficulty sleeping is that ...

- A they are in pain.
- B they eat the wrong food.
- C they feel worried.

4 What should you always do before bed?

- A have something to eat
- B follow the same routine
- C avoid using your phone
