

- 1) Trevor can be very (persuade).
- 2) The album is (boredom)-all of their songs sound (like).
- 3) Norms defining (accept) ways for settling an argument usually exclude (physics) violence and manslaughter.
- 4) Do (violence) programmes and video games really cause people to become more (aggression)?
- 5) Her mother had died in (suspect) circumstances.
- 6) Shall we tell him our secret? Is he (trust) enough?
- 7) The proposal remains (value) and (time) for one (base) reason.
- 8) Penicillin can be taken in (vary) forms and is (effect) against a wide range of (danger) infections.
- 9) He pursued this task with a diligence (characterise) of him.
- 10) The style is highly (decoration).
- 11) In such a fiercely (competition) environment, it's (inevitability) that some companies will go out of business.
- 12) I'll doubt if he'll come-he's not particularly (rely).
- 13) She was so (nerves) about her exams that she couldn't sleep.
- 14) The ability to produce in greater quantities made this system (waste) and it has given way to a more (science) process.
- 15) My parents are quite (agree) to my studying abroad.
- 16) (East) religions used to be the fashion in the 60s.
- 17) There's a (terror) history of wife-beating, but that does not make it (excuse).
- 18) His drinking has become (habit).
- 19) She was very (efficiency) in reducing waste.
- 20) The decision was (astonish) and completely unforeseen.
- 21) The comet is (vision) to the naked eye.
- 22) I'd be (gratitude) if you would send me further details.
- 23) She was (mystery) about herself but very (talk) about her husband.
- 25) In the (currency) (economics) climate it is fairly (prediction) that unemployment will continue to rise.