

DOES MONEY MAKE US HAPPY?

Read the text and write in the correct word.

Many people believe (1) _____ having more money means being happier. It's true that money can make life easier. It helps us pay (2) _____ food, housing, and healthcare. It also gives us more choices and freedom. However, research shows that after a certain point, more money doesn't always lead to (3) _____ happiness.

In fact, people who focus too much on earning and spending money can feel stressed or lonely. On the other hand, those (4) _____ use their money to enjoy experiences, help others, or spend time with family and friends often feel more satisfied with life.

Of course, we all need money (5) _____ live. But maybe real happiness comes from how we use our money—not just how much we have. In the end, it's about finding a balance (6) _____ meeting our needs and enjoying the little things that make life meaningful.
