A: What are you writing about for the (1)_____, Bruno?
B: I'm writing about when I went to (2)_____ in (3)_____.
A: Milan? Where's that?
B: It's in (4)_____.
A: Why did you go to Milan?
B: There was a special (5)_____ there for people who love building. I went with my (6)_____ and my parents. We built a really tall (7)_____ out of plastic bricks.
A: How did you do that?
B: Well, we didn't build it by ourselves! About (8)_____ thousand people built it. We wanted to break the (9)_____ for the tallest tower made of toy bricks in the world. People in different (10)_____ try to build the biggest tower – in (11)_____ they built a tower in England and before that it was in (12)_____ in Canada.
A: And how tall was the tower in Italy?
B: It was (13)_____ metres tall in the end.
A: That's a lot of bricks!
B: Yes, about (14)_____ thousand bricks.
A: Wow! Where did they all come from?
B: They always use the same bricks in each country that builds a tower. They always come from (15)_____.
A: And how long did people work on the tower?
B: (16)_____ days. They started building on the seventeenth of (17)_____ and finished on the twenty-first of June.
A: That's amazing!
B: Yes. And a famous Italian TV (18)_____ put the last brick on top of the tower.
A: Did he?
B: Yes, his name was (19)_____ Cattelan. C–A–T–T–E–L–A–N.
A: What happened when they finished the tower? Did they leave it there?
B: No, the tower isn't there now. They took the bricks back to Denmark. But the company who made the bricks gave money to a (20)_____ afterwards.
A: Great idea. How much (21)_____ did they make?
B: Umm, they gave seven euros for every (22)_____ of the tower, so ... I can't do the maths! A lot of (23)_____!
A: It sounds great. So that's what you're writing about for 'The (24)_____ that changed your life'. Why did it change your life?
B: Yes. It was a really good (25)_____. When I saw the finished tower, I thought that all the small (26)_____ we do are important. My family and I learnt to work with other (27)_____ and together. And we made some new (28)_____.
A: Wow! I need to think hard about what to write now!
