Dear Editor,

I just want to highlight about the attitude of the public on hygienic matters. Just visit the night markets after they are over or the stadium after a football match. One wonders why people can throw rubbish everywhere, leaving the places dirty and causing an eyesore as well. When will these people learn about cleanliness and civic consciousness?

Subject : Volunteer Work

Dear Delia,

Would you like to try something different this coming school holiday? The Recreational Club of my school is organising a trip to Pantai Gelugor. It's not far from your house, right? Join us for camping and cleaning the beach. While collecting rubbish that is scattered along the beach, some professional divers will go into the sea to look for poisonous jellyfish, which have been spotted at the beach recently.

Please reply whether you are interested in joining the trip. Thank you.

Chloe
