

POPULATION DENSITY

1) What is the population density? (Between = entre; how many = cuántos);

It is the relationship between an _____ and how many _____ live in it.

We calculate it dividing the number of _____ of a place by the number of square

_____ (km²).

SQUARE KILOMETRES

INHABITANTS

(Square kilometres = kilómetros cuadrados)

2) Look at the map:

3) Answer the questions:

- Which are the most densely populated provinces? _____ and _____

- Select the provinces that have more than 60 inhabitants per km²: (More = más)

ZAMORA JAÉN VALENCIA GIRONA MÁLAGA MURCIA

- Select the provinces that have less than 60 inhabitants per km²: (Less = menos)

LEÓN OURENSE A CORUÑA BADAJOZ MADRID CÁDIZ

- Which areas are generally more densely populated?

COASTAL AREAS

INLAND AREAS

- What is the population density of León city? _____ inhabitants / km²

Area: 39 km²

Population: 124.028 inhabitants.

