Attending A Cooking Class

The end of year school holidays were coming and Sheila was at a loss as to how to occupy her time. She would be going to Terengganu with her family during the first week of the holidays. (35) ____

Sheila asked her mother for advice. Her mother suggested she take up a class. Sheila thought that was a good idea but she was not sure what class to take up. (36) ____ Sheila followed her mother's advice and went to the community centre during the weekend.

At the community centre, she met her classmate, Jeeva. (37) ____ They were both surprised to see a long list of classes. After thinking long and hard, they both decided to join a cooking class. They both loved cooking and hoped the class would help them improve their skills. The girls signed up for the class. (38) ____

Soon, the holidays arrived and the cooking class started. The class was on every Tuesday and Friday at three in the afternoon. Both Sheila and Jeeva eagerly attended the first class. Before the class, they paid the fee of RM 15. (39) ____ Soon their teacher, Chef Michael arrived.

Chef Michael told them he had been a chef for over twenty years. He had worked in a few prestigious restaurants around the world and in Malaysia too. Chef Michael also said he would be teaching them both western and Asian cooking. (40) ____ Sheila and Jeeva felt very excited.

Chef Michael was an excellent teacher. He was also very strict but the students did not mind as they were learning a lot from him. Sheila was glad that she had followed her mother's advice.

A Jeeva too had come to check out the classes at the community centre.

B The class only had six students.

C He would be teaching the correct cooking techniques too.

D However after that, she had no plans.

E They would only need to pay once the class started.

F Jeeva wanted to attend the cooking class.

G Her mother said she could go to the community centre and check out the classes there.

H Sheila and Jeeva liked their cooking class.
