Crossword Puzzle

Down:

2. The final part of your speech that inspires your classmates for the future.
3. The fundamental framework or outline of your speech (e.g., introduction, body, conclusion).
4. The mood or attitude you establish at the very beginning of your speech.

Across:

1. The beginning of your speech that sets the tone.
5. Your "call to action" should have this quality, inspiring your audience to do something positive.
6. A famous saying, like the one from Winston Churchill, used for motivation.
7. Something you should give to your classmates for their future.
8. The group of people you are speaking to on behalf of.
9. What you should share to make your speech personal and relatable.
10. The main part of your speech, containing stories and advice.

Education.com

LIVEWORKSHEETS