Linda: Oh, sure! I'm calling about the poster competition...

Ben: 1

Linda: That's right. Would you like to enter?

Ben: 2

Linda: Yes, you're such a great artist, and I can't draw at all!

Ben: 3

Linda: Thank you. Do you want to work together?

Ben: 4

Linda: We need to send the poster before next Friday.

Ben: 5

Linda: Great! I'll call you tomorrow so we can start working on it.

A But you always have such great ideas!

B Let me think. When does the competition end?

C Hi Linda. Can you wait a minute? I'm just getting off the bus...

D That's very soon, but let's do it!

E I haven't decided yet. I mean, I love drawing...

F No, I'm not.

G Oh, yes. The one where you can win a trip to Ecuador?

H That's terrible.

Questions 6–12

Read the article about a student.

Are sentences 6–12 “Right” (A) or “Wrong” (B)?

If there is not enough information to answer “Right” (A) or “Wrong” (B), choose “Doesn’t say” (C).

For questions 6–12, mark A, B or C on your answer sheet.

Krtin Nithiyanandam

Krtin is seventeen and lives in England, but he was born in India. He goes to high school. His dream is to know more about science. This dream started after he had to go to the hospital because something was wrong with his ear. When he recovered, he began doing his own research in medicine and science, and he has found out some very important things. For example, he has found a way to detect early if a person may develop Alzheimer’s disease, a brain disorder that affects memory. He has also created a type of plastic that can clean water!

He is one of the world’s youngest scientists, but his age hasn’t stopped him from doing great things. He says, “Science isn’t about your age; it’s about your ideas.” He thinks everyone should have a dream. His advice to young people is “Don’t be afraid of people saying no.”

He contacted fifty-two schools about his first research project before he found someone who wanted to help him. Now, he is famous, and he has won several prizes for his work in science.
