

What does this sentence mean?

"Ice cream is on the house this evening," announced the shop assistant.

- a) Ice cream is on the roof this evening.
- b) Ice cream is free this evening.
- c) Ice cream is in the shape of houses this evening.

What does this sentence mean?

"Come in and make yourself at home," said Auntie Paula.

- a) Come in and make yourself comfortable.
- b) Come in and live here.
- c) Come in and make yourself a house from the blocks.

What does this sentence mean?

Dad will go through the roof when he sees this mess!

- a) Dad will break the roof when he sees the mess.
- b) Dad will go on the roof when he sees the mess.
- c) Dad will be very angry when he sees the mess.

What does this sentence mean?

Mum will hit the roof when she sees the broken vase.

- a) Mum will bang on the roof when she sees the broken vase.
- b) Mum will be very happy when she sees the broken vase.
- c) Mum will be very angry when she sees the broken vase.

What does this sentence mean?

I think this new game is very run of the mill. I can't see what's so special about it.

- a) I think the new game is very ordinary, nothing special.
- b) I think the new game is extraordinary.
- c) I think the new game is about running around mills.

What does this sentence mean?

“You’ll be in the doghouse if you don’t tidy your room,” warned Mum.

- a) If you don’t tidy your room, you’ll have to sleep in the doghouse.
- b) If you don’t tidy your room, Mum will put the dog in there.
- c) If you don’t tidy your room, you’ll be in trouble.

What does this sentence mean?

Rhea is climbing the walls in her new job, she’s finding it so boring!

- a) Rhea is extremely bored in her new job.
- b) Rhea’s new job is to do with walls.
- c) Rhea doesn’t like climbing.

What does this sentence mean?

“Preeti, can you hold the fort at the shop today, I’m not able to come in,” said the shop manager.

- a) Preeti is being asked to look after the shop today.
- b) Preeti is being asked to make a fort in the shop today.
- c) Preeti can stay at home today.

What does this sentence mean?

“Gary’s remarks about copying were a bit too close to home,” said Fran.

- a) Fran was personally affected by Gary’s remarks about copying. She was worried by the remarks.
- b) Fran was close to her house when Gary made remarks about copying.
- c) Fran wasn’t listening to Gary’s remarks about copying. She was thinking about going home.

What does this sentence mean?

The new show is really bringing the house down!

- a) The new show is breaking the house.
- b) The new show is not well liked.
- c) The new show is very entertaining and people have been laughing / clapping a lot.