

Listen to the conversation. Then choose the correct answers.

_____ 1. What did the show say about the origin of the stone balls?

A. They could have occurred naturally.
B. It's certain that they were man-made.
C. It's possible they were part of a building.

_____ 2. What does Lorenzo think about the origin of the stone balls?

A. He thinks it's possible they occurred naturally.
B. There's no question they were man-made.
C. He is certain they're not man-made.

_____ 3. What do Fran and Lorenzo disagree about?

A. how the stone balls might have been used
B. who might have used the stone balls
C. the size of the stone balls

_____ 4. Does Fran think the stone balls could have been a part of a machine?

A. Yes, she's certain.
B. It's possible, but she really doesn't know.
C. She's skeptical. She thinks they probably weren't part of a machine.

_____ 5. What does Lorenzo believe about the stone balls falling from space?

A. He thinks the idea is obvious.
B. He thinks it's the most likely idea.
C. He's not certain that it happened.

Read the sentences. Decide if the person is very certain, almost certain, or not certain. Then choose the correct answers.

_____ 6. I think I left my purse on the train. I'll call the lost-and-found; someone may have turned it in.

A. very certain
B. almost certain
C. not certain

_____ 7. Jim had to have been at the office this morning. His computer was turned on, and there was a hot coffee on his desk.

A. very certain
B. almost certain
C. not certain

____ 8. The bright light in the sky last night might have been from a plane. I think it's possible, even though I didn't hear any loud noises.

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

____ 9. The stones used to build the Egyptian pyramids must have been difficult to move.

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

____ 10. Chris couldn't have written that letter. He obviously doesn't speak or write Chinese!

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

____ 11. Stonehenge must have been man-made. I'll bet it didn't occur naturally.

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

____ 12. My best friend's birthday party is next week. There's no question that I'll be there to help her celebrate.

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

____ 13. He should have been home an hour ago. I'll bet he had to stay late to finish the report that's due tomorrow.

- A. very certain
- B. almost certain
- C. not certain

Listen to the conversation. Then choose the correct answers.

____ 14. Why does the woman think the story is true?

- A. The story was reported from reliable sources.
- B. She saw a video about it.
- C. She heard the man speak in several languages.

____ 15. In the beginning, what is Mel's response to the story?

- A. He thinks it's a lie.
- B. He is skeptical.
- C. He wants to believe it.

____ 16. Why does Izzy say the man's ability to speak Icelandic is debatable?

- A. The man was probably just reading something he had memorized.
- B. He didn't show this ability on the video.
- C. Experts might disagree about his ability.

____ 17. What is Izzy's view of the story?

- A. She is very certain of it.
- B. She finds some of it questionable.
- C. She is not sure if it makes sense.

Match the sentences. Choose the letter.

- A. I think the story is debatable.
- B. The story seems believable.
- C. The magazine is simply unreliable.
- D. The theory is unprovable.
- E. I think the story is questionable.

____ 18. There is no evidence that anyone ever lived here.

____ 19. I don't think a word of what she said is true and there are quite a few things that don't make sense.

____ 20. I can think of plenty of other explanations for what happened.

____ 21. What I read makes a lot of sense to me.

____ 22. Their stories have been proven to be false in the past.

Choose the answer that correctly completes each sentence.

23. The Incas didn't have any sophisticated machines or work animals. The temples _____ (must / couldn't / may) have been built exclusively by human hands.

24. Dinosaurs may not have died off gradually as the result of climate change. They _____ (had to / could / would) have been killed off quickly by some sudden event.

25. I don't believe in any of those other crazy theories. Stonehenge _____ (might have been / were / had to have been) built by ancient Britons many years ago.

26. The Nazca lines are incredible, but I'm certain they weren't created by people who lived 1,500 years ago. The ancient people _____ (couldn't have / would have / must have) had the knowledge to create something so accurate.

27. Conspiracy fans continue to consider the story of Roswell aliens. They believe that UFOs _____ (might / couldn't / had to) have crashed in the desert.

28. The Mary Celeste _____ (might have been / had to have been / had been) attacked by pirates. No one knows for sure.

29. It's obvious that something terrible happened. The crew _____ (had to have / would have / might) abandoned the ship during the incident. There's no other explanation.

Read the article. Then answer the questions. Choose the correct answers.

The Real Story of Jimmy's World

"Jimmy's World" was an article that appeared in the Washington Post in 1980. It told the story of an eight-year-old drug addict named Jimmy (not his real name) who lived in Washington, D.C. The article also described his family—his parents and grandparents who were drug addicts as well. It told the story of a community that was consumed by an epidemic of drugs, guns, and violence. It was a very emotional story filled with details about the people in the community and the negative effects that drugs were having on all of their lives.

The story had considerable impact on the public. Readers of the newspaper were shocked. They didn't understand how such a small boy could have become an addict. Even the city's mayor took note of the story. Under pressure from the public, he asked the police to search for Jimmy. He then said that Jimmy had been found and was being treated for his drug problems. Later, the mayor announced that Jimmy had died.

Many people who read the story did not believe it. They claimed that it couldn't have happened. They demanded that the journalist who wrote the story, Janet Cooke, reveal the identity of the boy in the story. Cooke refused to reveal any real names. A few months later, Cooke received a major journalism prize for her work on the story. However, as time went on, it became clear that there were some problems with the article. People suspected that some of the details might have been made up. Eventually, other reporters found so many holes in her story that Cooke was forced to admit that she had invented all of it. There was no Jimmy. Cooke had to return the prize and she was fired from her job.

Why did she do it? It's difficult to know. She might have been so eager for attention that she forgot about the truth. Or, she could have been more interested in revealing the very real problems of drugs and violence than in telling the truth about a specific story. Her editor insisted that the story was a good one, even if it was all a lie. Famous author Gabriel García Márquez said that perhaps she did not deserve the journalism prize, but she could have won a prize in literature instead.

_____ 30. Why did some readers doubt the story of "Jimmy's World"?

- A. The writer provided fake names and addresses of the people.
- B. Jimmy was too young to be a drug addict.
- C. Many of the facts in the story could not be confirmed.

_____ 31. Based on the passage, what can you infer about the mayor of Washington, D.C., at the time?

- A. He lied.
- B. He found Jimmy.
- C. He visited Jimmy in the hospital.

32. Based on the passage, why did Cooke invent the story about Jimmy?

- A. She might have written it in order to win the prize.
- B. She might have been concerned about the city's problems.
- C. She must have done it to become famous.

33. Why did Gabriel García Márquez think Cooke could have won a literature prize with the story?

- A. He didn't know that she had made the whole story up.
- B. As fiction, the story was very well written.
- C. He respected her as a journalist.

Writing Test

Correct the sentence fragments and rewrite the paragraph with complete sentences.

Suddenly, the airplane disappeared from the radar screen. None of the airline officials could understand what could have happened. They thought the plane might have crashed. They wondered what they should say to the public. Especially to the families of the passengers on the plane. They decided to begin a complete investigation. Into the plane's disappearance and its possible causes. They decided to wait for a while. Before informing the families. At least until they had completed the entire investigation into what could have happened to the plane. Fortunately, this story has a happy ending. After the experts checked out all the equipment. The problem was in the computer. Because an insect had gotten inside of it! The computer had lost contact with the plane. The plane and all the passengers were just fine. It had just been a computer "bug!" They were happy that they had not told anyone. Especially the families of the passengers.