Volunteering at School

My school has a number of volunteer activities every summer. The activities include donating books to village children, tutoring kids in the neighbourhood, teaching English to primary students, reading books or cooking food for the needy. Our school started this programme five years ago. Every student can join one or two activities. In the beginning, we thought about (21) _____ should join in these activities. We then thought about what (22) _____ we wanted to do. Those who like reading could choose to collect and donate books. Those who are good at English could (23) _____ primary students. Finally, we signed up for the activities we chose. Our teachers often (24) _____ us to stay committed. They also help us when we need it. We have a lot of fun and learn many things from (25) _____ the activities.

People first used the word ‘volunteer’ in 1795, but in England there were at least 500 volunteer hospitals long before that. The YMCA (Young Men's Christian Association) in London became the first volunteering organisation in 1844. It provided help to needy people and held classes to help people develop skills. The Red Cross became the first international charity organisation in 1863. Volunteer work is becoming more and more popular in the world. For example, in the USA, about one-fifth of the population does volunteer work. In Europe, thousands of volunteer programmes are run in different countries.

Everyone can do volunteer work to help their community. Volunteer activities include donating food and clothes, joining clean-up projects, tutoring children, protecting wild animals, etc. Volunteers work not for money but to help people in need and to connect with others.
