Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Nowadays, many people spend hours online, sharing photos, writing reflections, or keeping an online diary. These activities allow us to participate in social networks and connect with a diverse audience. However, there is often a contradiction between how people really behave in real life and how they appear online.

Some users admit that they try to show only their best sides on social media. This makes their lives look perfect and always exciting. But in reality, everyone has multiple emotions and experiences, both good and bad. To maintain an honest image, it's important to be flexible and share different parts of yourself.

Because the online world is constantly changing, people also need to adjust their attitude toward what they post. Things that seem private may quickly become visible to everyone. This shows the complexity of modern communication. Many experts highlight the importance of being careful and real — your online personality should not be too different from your true self.

Question 27. What is the main idea of the passage?

- A. People should stop using social media.
- B. People should be honest and careful about their online image.
- C. Social media is dangerous and full of lies.
