Pizza vs. Hamburger

Pizza and Hamburger are two very famous fast foods. Many people around the world love them.

Pizza comes from Italy. It is a large, round, flat bread. People put tomato sauce, cheese, and other toppings on it. Pizza is always cooked in an oven. Because it is large, it is often a shared meal that friends or family eat together. You usually use a plate and a fork to eat it.

Hamburger comes from the USA. It is smaller and is made of two pieces of a soft bun. Between the buns, there is a cooked meat patty. Hamburgers are usually a single meal for one person. They are easy to hold and are most often eaten with your hands.
