A	Sutera Village This is the biggest and the oldest village in the country. About 10 000 people live in here. Most of them are farmers and fishermen. You can watch some groups playing musical instruments and singing on Sunday nights. There is a big clean river which is famous among the tourists. They also love this village because there is a variety of delicious food and there are beautiful lights at night-good for photos! You can also ride the boat for half an hour or go shopping along the streets.
B	Dahlia Village This village is 30 minutes from the nearest town. There are 200 people from thirty families living along the beach. Many tourists come here just to see the oldest house in the country -it is 150 years old! The people here make and sell pretty jewellery. You can also watch their special dance twice a week. Try the sweet dessert which you can buy at the busy night market every Friday and Saturday. If you're lucky, you can see the bright sky with the moon and stars at night.
C	Mutiara Village There are not more than 1000 people in this village. Half of the people are between 60 and 80 years old. The young people here prefer working in town although it takes more than half an hour to get there. It doesn't have any musical shows but it is famous for sand and leaf paintings. Pak Mat and his friends sell these paintings and teach tourists or anyone who is interested in learning this art. The night here is dark and quiet, but you may enjoy the cool air from the sea.
