

Your immune system is only working when you get sick

Your immune system can sometimes attack your own body

Antibodies attack bad cells as well

Antigens trigger the immune response in our body

Bone marrow produces the white and red blood cells of the body

The spleen helps the body by producing bone marrow