Look at the pictures. What is the story about?

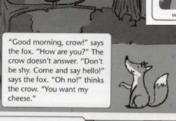

- a) A fox, a crow, a tree
- b) A fox, a crow, some cheese
- c) A fox, a crow, a forest

A fox is walking in the woods. He's hungry. "I can smell cheese," he thinks. "I like cheese. Where is it?" He looks round, and then he sees a big black crow. The crow is sitting in a tree. He's got some cheese in his beak.

"I know you can sing very well." says the fox. "I can. I can sing very well," thinks the crow. "Can you sing me a song?" says the fox. "Please." "Oh, OK just one song," thinks the crow. And he opens his beak and sings.

2 Match the sentence halves.

- 1 The crow has -
- 2 The fox
- 3 The fox says
- 4 The crow
- 5 The fox says the
- 6 The crow thinks
- 7 The fox wants
- 8 The crow sings and
- a the cheese is fine.
- b wants some cheese.
- c doesn't answer.
- d the fox eats the cheese.
- e a song from the crow.
- f got some cheese.
- g cheese is bad.
- h "Good morning!" to the crow.

What's the lesson from this story? Choose from below.

- 1 Don't sit in trees and eat cheese.
- 2 Don't talk to foxes.
- 3 Think before you open your MORKSHEETS

"Hey crow," says the fox,
"don't eat that cheese. It smells bad. It smells very, very bad." "It isn't bad! You want my cheese," thinks the crow,
"you're not very clever!"

