Last summer, our class joined an exchange trip to Japan. When we arrived in Tokyo, we were amazed by the city's modern (0) transport system, which made it easy to (1) _____ even without a car.

We took a (2) _____ to Kyoto; it was incredibly (3) _____, smooth, and comfortable. In Kyoto, we visited many (4) _____ temples and walked along the narrow streets with beautiful (5) _____ lined with cherry trees.

It was a truly spectacular trip that helped us understand both modern technology and ancient culture in one journey.

IV. Read the text and answer the questions in FULL SENTENCES.

Last weekend, Nam's class joined a field trip to Hanoi to learn about the city's transport and environment.

At first, they visited the city's transport system, which helps people get around easily without using cars. The guide explained how the new metro station connects different parts of the city and helps reduce traffic congestion.

Later, they took a short ride on a bullet train model that can travel at a high speed of over 300 km per hour. Everyone was amazed by how quiet and comfortable it was.

In the afternoon, the class walked through the historic Old Quarter. They saw many elegant French-style buildings and clean pavements full of tourists and commuters. Nam said the streets were noisy but very lively and attractive.

Before leaving, they visited a science corner, where a guide showed how plants absorb water from the soil and how evaporation happens when the sun shines. Nam thought it was truly spectacular.
