

“Fact vs Opinion”

Reading fragment (contexto médico sencillo)

The hospital has 100 beds. The nurses work very hard every day. I think the emergency room is the busiest part of the hospital. The doctor gives medicine to patients quickly. In my opinion, the hospital cafeteria has the best food in town.

Actividad 1 – Identifica hecho u opinión (5 reactivos)

Marca si la afirmación es un hecho (Fact) o una opinión (Opinion).

1. The hospital has 100 beds.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
2. The nurses work very hard every day.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
3. I think the emergency room is the busiest part of the hospital.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion

4. The doctor gives medicine to patients quickly.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
5. In my opinion, the hospital cafeteria has the best food in town.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion

Actividad 2 – Lectura crítica: clasifica las afirmaciones (5 reactivos)

The patient's temperature is 37.5°C. I believe this is the safest hospital in the city. The nurse answered all questions politely. The waiting room is too small. The doctor is very skilled.

1. The patient's temperature is 37.5°C.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
2. I believe this is the safest hospital in the city.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
3. The nurse answered all questions politely.
 - a) Fact
 - b) Opinion

4. The waiting room is too small.

a) Fact

b) Opinion

5. The doctor is very skilled.

a) Fact

b) Opinion

Actividad 3 – Distingue hecho y opinión en párrafo (5 reactivos)

The hospital opened in 1995. The nurses are very friendly. I think it is the most modern hospital in the area. The emergency room has 10 beds. In my opinion, the staff is the nicest in the city.

1. The hospital opened in 1995.

a) Fact

b) Opinion

2. The nurses are very friendly.

a) Fact

b) Opinion

3. I think it is the most modern hospital in the area.

a) Fact

b) Opinion

4. The emergency room has 10 beds.
- a) Fact
 - b) Opinion
5. In my opinion, the staff is the nicest in the city.
- a) Fact
 - b) Opinion

T. SUE