Gerunds and Infinitives – Gerund, Infinitive, or Either?

Choose the correct form of the verb in parentheses. Some verbs can use either form.

1. She loves (to dance / dancing / either one) at parties.
2. They prefer (to stay / staying / either one) at home on rainy days.
3. He decided (to move / moving / either one) to New York last year.
4. I want (to learn / learning / either one) how to play the piano.
5. He started (to read / reading / either one) a new book yesterday.
6. I like (to cook / cooking / either one) for my friends on weekends.
7. I enjoy (to swim / swimming / either one) in the ocean during summer.
8. He finished (to write / writing / either one) his report last night.
9. We avoided (to talk / talking / either one) about politics at dinner.
10. She promised (to call / calling / either one) me after work.
11. They suggested (to go / going / either one) to a new restaurant downtown.
12. They hope (to travel / traveling / either one) to Italy next summer.

LIVEWORKSHEETS