

My Town

Prepositions of Place

The police station is near the park.

The post office is opposite the fire station.

The hospital is between the post office and the police station.

The library is across from the school.

The airport is at the end of the police station.