When Tainan Was Different: Time-Travel

Three hundred years ago, Tainan was a busy city. People ate _____ and fresh _____ from the sea. They traveled by _____ because there were no buses or scooters. If they wanted to send a message, they wrote _____ and waited for days. Many people worked as _____, _____, or builders. Their houses were made of _____ and were small and simple.

traders fish wood soldiers

letters deer meat ship

Today, Tainan is still a busy and beautiful city, but life is very different. We eat _____, _____, and sometimes _____. We take buses and _____ to go to school or work. We use _____ to send messages instantly. Most people are _____, _____, office workers, or shopkeepers. We live in _____ with electricity, air conditioners, and bright lights.

teachers rice pizza phones

scooters tall buildings noodles students

LIVEWORKSHEETS