

CARD 3

1. Jack's parents told/ were told to pay attention to his performance.
2. Students ask/ are asked to submit their questions at the interactive museum exhibit.
3. Limited-edition sneakers were got/ got within hours of the sale.
4. The teachers will be told/ will tell the students about the upcoming coding competition.
5. A wild elephant injured/ was injured a safari guide during the trek.
6. Young engineers employ/ are employed to develop new app features.
7. Fans called/ were called for the band to release a new album after their livestream.
8. Parliament passed/ was passed new safety regulations for amusement parks.
9. Packages of supplies sent/ were sent to remote villages after the storm.
10. Children affected/ were affected by the new safety regulations in amusement parks.
11. The street called/ was called "the centre" though it located/ was located not downtown.
12. Teenagers will be taught/ will teach how to prepare sushi in the live cooking session.

CARD 4

1. Local musicians are allowed/ allow to perform in the renovated historic square.
2. Volunteers provided/ were provided emergency supplies to communities affected by floods.
3. The startup was employed/ employed young engineers to improve its app algorithms.
4. The film festival was awarded/ awarded the best director prize to a debut filmmaker.
5. A researcher lent/ was lent her drone to a colleague for wildlife filming.
6. The interactive dinosaur exhibit will be displayed/ will display at a local museum.
7. Fans were paid/ paid tribute to the actor by posting messages on social media.
8. A detailed travel guide was written/ wrote for first-time visitors to Seoul.
9. Not too many tickets left/ are left in the box office – you'd better hurry up.
10. The team challenged/ was challenged to create a new brand application.
11. Rare historical artifacts are seen/ see at the international conference in Rome.
12. Doctors are given/ give free vaccinations to anybody in need at the community health fair.