

B2 – So and Such

We use so / such _____ that to describe a situation and its effect.

Read the examples below and fill in the rules using the words in the box:

singular	noun	adjective	plural or uncountable
----------	------	-----------	-----------------------

Rule 1: so + _____ / adverb that

'This chocolate cake is so good that I can't stop eating it!'

'He ate the food so quickly that I thought he was going to be sick.'

→ 'The _____ was so _____ that _____.'

Rule 2: so + much / many / little / few + _____ that...

'She prepared so much food that nobody could eat it.'

'He added so little salt that the food tasted bland.'

→ 'There are so many _____ that _____.'

Rule 3: such + a / an + adjective + _____ noun that...

'She cooked the chicken at such a high temperature that she almost burnt it.'

'It was such a hot dish that I had to wait a few minutes before digging in.'

→ 'It was such a _____ that _____.'

Rule 4: such + adjective + _____ noun that...

'This is such good news that I want to tell everybody.'

'They are such tasty muffins that I want to share them with everyone.'

→ 'These are such _____ that _____.'

Special rule: a lot of is used with such

She has such a lot of friends that she can't add anyone else on social media.