

A red apple is positioned on top of a stack of three books. The books have blue, white, and yellow covers. The background is a light, neutral color.

FOOD IDIOMS

Drag the phrases/idioms to the correct sentence.

0. Opera isn't exactly my cup of tea. = something you enjoy (usually used negatively)

very important person (VIP) somebody who often drops things

want more than your fair share or need necessities, the main thing

1. I thought I was just going to interview the secretary, but they let me talk to the big cheese himself. _____

2. Please tell me the bread and butter of your report. Don't go into details. _____

3. He had the ball, but he dropped it!
What a butterfingers! _____

4. Rick wants to be rich but he doesn't want to work. He wants to have his cake and eat it too. _____

the best

use your brain

very relaxed

to have lots of energy

5. I thought I was afraid of flying, but I was cool as a cucumber all the way to England. _____

6. We invited the cream of the crop to entertain us at the Christmas party. _____

7. You're going to have to really use your noodle on this crossword puzzle. It's very difficult! _____

8. They couldn't get to sleep because they were full of beans.

to be in serious trouble

someone who just sits on the couch watching TV

a person who cannot be trusted

to earn money to live

9. He never phoned his mother. He was a bad egg. _____

10. She should get out more, she's turning into a real couch potato. _____

11. When Harry lost his job, he was really in the soup. _____

12. I'm looking for a job. I need to do something to bring home the bacon. _____

a very intelligent person

like a lot

crazy or mad

easy, simple

13. I'm nuts about classical music these days. _____

14. Harry has been out to lunch ever since he lost his job. _____

15. Your daughter is one smart cookie. She reads much higher than her grade level. _____

16. Don't worry! This test is piece of cake. I finished it in twenty minutes. _____

to buy something useless a cowardly person

17. That second-hand car I bought was a real lemon.
It broke down a week after I bought it. _____

18. Fred will never ask Lucy for a date. He is a chicken. _____