The symbol test can be quite useful to help you decide what personality type you are. Take a look at the symbols below and say which one you like best. Don't think too much about it, just make a quick and simple choice. Read on and check what your symbol says about you.

A TRIANGLE

You are a true leader and don't mind people saying you are quite bossy. You are very sure of yourself and your opinions, and you are not afraid to express them to everybody around you. You enjoy popularity, and you love telling others about important things you've done in your life.

B SQUARE

You are well-organised and hate any situations when you don't know what other people expect you to do. You are an individualist, so teamwork is not something you enjoy much. Because you always try to look at all possible options, sometimes you find it difficult to decide quickly what you really want to do.

C SQUIGGLE

Your strong creativity is a quality that makes you dislike rules as you always think about new ways of doing things. You don't enjoy simple, daily tasks as you quickly lose interest in them, so you often end up doing a lot of things at the same time but hardly ever finish anything on time.

D CIRCLE

You are a really sociable person, so others often think you are the right person to talk to about their problems or feelings. You like harmony, which makes it difficult for you to argue and make unpopular decisions. That's why it is sometimes too easy for those around you to make you change your opinions just because you don't want to hurt their feelings.
