A SHORT HISTORY OF CHRISTMAS CAROLS

Christmas carols are traditional songs people sing at Christmas time. Many years ago, these songs were not only religious. People sang them in the streets, in towns, and at celebrations.

In the past, Christmas carols were written in simple language so everyone could understand them. People sang about joy, family, and peace.

Over time, carols became part of church celebrations and later schools and homes. Today, people all around the world sing Christmas carols to celebrate Christmas and share happiness.
