A Cappadocia Balloon Festival, Turkey

If you're a fan of adventure and fantastic scenery, the Cappadocia Balloon Festival is ideal. The festival is celebrated in July, when the weather is perfect. You will go for a ride in a hot-air balloon above this amazing landscape in central Turkey. You will see the mountains, which look amazing in the early morning. At night, you and your friends will eat a meal of meat and fish.

B Carnival of Venice, Italy

The Carnival of Venice in February or March is perfect for people who want to enjoy themselves... a lot! Thousands of people come to the city, where they get together with friends and family to dance, stay up late and have a good time. The masquerade balls are so much fun and the costumes are amazing.

C Corso of Lavender, France

This is for people that are crazy about a peaceful way of life. It celebrates lavender, which is a type of plant whose flowers smell beautiful. This is a traditional festival, which has been celebrated in the French town of Digne in July for almost one hundred years. During the festival there is a ceremony when people dress up in purple and walk around the town. They give people presents and eat traditional food.

D New Year's Eve in August, Spain

Come to the village of Berchules in the south of Spain if you want to celebrate New Year in August. At midnight on the first Saturday, a huge street party begins that follows in the traditions of a typical New Year's Eve in December. People hang out together with friends, listen to loud music and eat 12 grapes to bring good luck. The party lasts until the morning!
