- A. Paper flashcards work just as well but electronic flash card programmes provide some great benefits.
- B. But in reality, having goals doesn't help you achieve much.
- C. If you don't set goal, how can you know what you want to achieve?
- D. At this time, there is no point even trying to remember the word.
- E. Luckily, you don't need to learn anywhere near that many words to be good at language.
- F. You should aim to learn about 5,000 words in a couple of weeks.
- G. To get around this, simply use the word in a sentence in your native language.
- H. Yet the idea of learning a language seems anything but fast.

Learning a language

Whatever your reason for learning a new language, you can probably agree it'd be ideal to learn it fast. (1) _____. You'll have to learn a new grammar, memorise vocabulary words, practice speaking, etc. But learning a new language does not need to be a slow or boring process if you follow the right strategy.

The first step to learning a new language fast is to set goals. When you think about it, this makes a lot of sense. (2) _____ When faced with the idea of learning a new language, most of us feel nervous. Setting goal helps you to focus.

Language are made up of a shocking number of words. English, for example, has between 600,000 and 1 million words. (3) _____ Consider this: the top 100 words make up about 50 percent of English language texts, and the top 1,000 words make up about 90 percent! By focusing on learning these words first, you can increase the amount of information you understand very quickly.

One of the best ways to learn vocabulary words is to use flashcards. Flashcards allow you to test yourself, which helps you memorise new information. Try out electronic flash cards. (4) _____ You can easily carry large amounts of words on your smartphone or tablet, and you can take advantage of flash cards that other people have created and made public.

When you're learning a new language, it can be hard to practise words in context because you haven't mastered yet enough vocabulary to make complex sentences (5) _____. For example, if you're learning the Spanish word casa (house), you could say, "I'm going to my casa now". You can also make up a sentence with the new words you're learning, the meaning of the word and a word in your own language that sounds similar.

3. Read the passage below and choose the best answer to each question. (2.0 pts)

A gold rush is the rapid relocation of large numbers of people to an area where gold has been discovered. Gold rushes capture the imagination and participation of many people because of the magical lure of gold and the potential for overnight affluence. The greatest gold rush in the United States history was the California Gold Rush of 1849.

The rush first began in 1848 when a carpenter named James Marshall discovered gold on the property of John A. Stutter in the Sacramento Valley. Hired to build a sawmill on the banks of the American River, Marshall had hardly begun work when he started finding nugget after nugget of gold. News of the discovery at Stutter's mill spread quickly, and soon thousands of persons were laying claims in the area. These people, called "forty-niners", rushed in from all over the world. In just two years, the population of California increased from 26,000 to 380,000. Consequently, California was officially admitted to the union as a state, in September of 1850. The free-spending style of the successful miners helped to turn communities such as Sacramento and San Francisco into prosperous towns. Those who were not so lucky became farmers and ranchers in the Central Valley of California.

1. What could be the best title for this passage?
 - A. Famous gold Rushes.
 - B. The Forty-niners.
 - C. The Lure of Gold.
 - D. The California Gold Rush of 1849.

2. According to the passage, people joined gold rushes because _____.
A. they are guaranteed overnight wealth
B. gold holds a magical power for everyone
C. they believe they have a chance of becoming affluent
D. they have very active imaginations

3. According to the passage, where was gold first discovered?
A. At Stutter's mill.
B. On James Marshall's property near Sacramento.
C. In the Streamed of the American River.
D. In the Central Valley of California.

4. It can be inferred from the passage that the California gold rush _____.
A. provided most "forty-niners" with long-term mining work
B. attracted people from every country in the world
C. spread throughout the Central Valley
D. greatly speeded up the development of California

5. The word "Those" in the second paragraph refers to _____.
A. Communities
B. Miners
C. Sacramento and San Francisco
D. Towns
