

Use the Future Progressive Tense

The future progressive tense is used for something that will be happening at some point in the future. It uses the future tense of the helping verb to be (will be), followed by a main verb ending in -ing.

Complete each sentence with the future progressive tense of the verb shown.

1. This summer, I will be raising money for the animal shelter.
raise
2. On Tuesdays, Aidan tutor his neighbor in long division.
3. At the end of June, I visit my aunts and uncles in Nigeria.
4. My talkative little brother start his own podcast for a school project.
5. Allison's job at the party tie balloons to all the party favors.
6. With this cast on my arm, I miss every baseball game this season.
7. Guinea pigs are social pets, so you want to buy at least two.
8. The rising magma means the volcano erupt soon.
9. This Halloween, Chloe dress up in one of her grandma's vintage dresses.
10. Martin wants to win tournaments, so he practice golf almost every day.