

Hooks
Strong	Weak

Inventions are important and many people invent things.

People invent things for different reasons.

Some of the world's most important inventions were created during the hardest times in history.

When people face danger, shortages, or big challenges, they often turn problems into powerful inventions.