6. READING COMPREHENSION:

ASINCRONICO

Read the following passage and decide whether the sentences below it are true (T) or false (F).

Festival

The Dragon Boat Festival commemorates the death of a national hero, Chow Yen, who threw himself into the river and died in protest against a corrupt Government.

That happened about 2,000 years ago in China, but the people saw the incident and they felt very sorry for him. Then they collected some boats and beat the drums, made a lot of noise and raced the boats in the river to scare away the creatures in the river which were about to eat Chow Yen's body. Other people made small balls of rice, meat and beans, and they threw them into the river to feed the fish.

Nowadays people still make these small pieces of food but they do not throw them into the river, they eat them – they are delicious! There are also boat races in China, Hong Kong and any parts of the world where there is a large Chinese community.

The dragon boats are very narrow and long, and they have the head of a dragon in the front and the tail of a dragon at the back. There are about 22 people on each boat. They have a big drum at the end of the boat, and while the people take part in the race one person beats the drum and those on the boat have to row together to the rhythm of the drum.

- 1) Chow Yen committed suicide 2,000 years ago. ____
- 2) The people did not want to help Chow Yen. ____
- 3) The people thought that if the fish ate the food they wouldn't eat Chow Yen. ____
- 4) People do not take part in boat races anymore. ____
- 5) Twenty-two people beat the drums on the boat. ____
