4. READ THE TEXT CAREFULLY. THEN CHOOSE THE CORRECT ANSWER. (5PTS)

Many regions of the Americas have rich natural resources such as rivers, forests, and fertile land. However, not all people benefit equally from these resources. In some areas, pollution, erosion, and lack of clean water create poverty and health problems. Climate and geography influence where people live, work, and grow food. Protecting natural resources is important for a better future.

4.1. What natural resources are mentioned in the text?

- a) Mountains, deserts, and oceans
- b) Rivers, forests, and fertile land
- c) Cities, factories, and roads
- d) Wind, snow, and ice

4.2. Why do some people in the Americas live in poverty?

- a) Because they do not like natural resources
- b) Because pollution, erosion, and lack of clean water affect their lives
- c) Because climate has no influence
- d) Because all regions are the same

4.3. What problem is caused by erosion of the land?

- a) Better farming
- b) More water
- c) Loss of fertile soil
- d) More forests

4.4. How do climate and geography affect people?

- a) They decide people's names
- b) They influence where people live and work
- c) They only affect animals
- d) They have no effect on humans

4.5. Why is it important to protect natural resources?

- a) To make maps
- b) To increase pollution
- c) To improve quality of life and the economy
- d) To change the climate

5. ANSWER IN COMPLETE SENTENCES.
