Carrie's Journal

March 12

Today it's cold and snowy. This morning, Sandy and I went ice skating on the lake. It was fun. After lunch, we went outside to make a snowman.

Then Billy came along. He threw a snowball at Sandy. So I threw a snowball at Billy. The three of us throw snowballs at each other. I love the snow.

April 9

Today my dad told me that we're moving to Florida. He said it's hot and sunny in Florida. My mom is from Florida, and she doesn't like the snow and ice. Moreover, Grandma and Grandpa live in Florida.

May 28

Today I finished packing my toys, my books, and my clothes. Tomorrow we are moving. I'm going to miss snow. I can't throw snowballs in Florida.

June 3

This morning I finished unpacking all my clothes and toys. Then Mom said, "Let's go to the beach. We can go swimming, and Dad can go fishing." So we put on our bathing suits and went to the beach. The water was warm. We swam for a long time. I couldn't swim in the ocean in Vermont. Now I can swim in the ocean every day. I danced for joy on the warm sand.
