Moving forward with music

Learning to play an instrument can be frustrating. Sometimes you feel you're really doing well and your progress feels 'accelerated' / 'speeded up'. At other times, you can feel a bit stuck at the same level and 'occasional' / 'occasionally' you might even feel you're going backwards! If that happens, just 'stick at' / 'in it' and don't give up. It's worth trying some new techniques to help keep up the 'moment' / 'momentum'. For example, if you practise on a 'daily' / 'day' basis, change your start time or choice of music. And remember that you're learning 'throughout' / 'whenever' the time you're practising, although that feeling of progress may come and go.
