

Lesson 11

Quantifiers

some

any

much

a few

a little many

a lot of

Quantifiers

1

Some – Any

2

A lot of 3

Many – Much

4

A few – A little

Quantifiers

some,

any

1

Some - Any

We use 'some' and 'any' for a number (more than one) or an amount of something.

The exact number or amount is not important.

1

Some - Any

Use 'some' before nouns in the plural, like this:

Examples;

★ some students ★ some banks ★ some boys
★ some girls ★ some dogs

1

Some - Any

Examples;

→ Some banks are open on Saturdays.

→ Some animals are very clever.

→ Some people can't swim.

→ There are some apples on the table.

1

Some - Any

Use 'some' with uncountable nouns, like this:

Examples;

★ some water   ★ some bread   ★ some petrol
★ some coffee   ★ some chocolate

1

Some - Any

Examples;

We need some petrol.

There's some water on the table.

I've got some money in my wallet.

1

Some - Any

Use 'any' after not (in negative sentences):

Examples;

★ He didn't give me any money.

★ There weren't any cars.

We haven't got any children.

1

Some - Any

Use 'any' in questions, like these:

Examples;

★ Do you have any questions?

★ Did you take any photos?

Have you got any money?

1

Some - Any

You can leave out the noun after 'some' or 'any' if you have talked about it before.

Examples;

★ A: Have you got any money?

B: Yes, I have got some. / No, I haven't got any.

1

Some - Any

Remember!

Positive Sentences

Negative Sentences

Questions

Singular

There is some sugar in this coffee.

There isn't any sugar in this coffee.

Is there any sugar in this coffee?

Plural

There are some flowers in the garden.

There aren't any flowers in the garden.

Are there any flowers in the garden?

1

Some - Any

You can also use “some” in questions when you make offers, for example:

Examples;

- ★ Would you like some coffee?
- ★ Can I have some pizza?

Quantifiers

a lot of

2

A lot of

We use “a lot of” with all nouns, countable and uncountable.

Examples;

- ★ a lot of houses
- ★ a lot of books
- ★ a lot of people
- ★ a lot of money
- ★ a lot of music