Office Time

Jeremy Denton worked in an office in the city of New York. He used to go to the barber's during working hours to have his hair cut although he knew that this was against the rules. He fitted his visits to the nearby barber's shop in between his responsibilities and was happy with his clever time management.

While Jeremy was at the barber's one day, the manager of his company came over to have his own hair and moustache trimmed. Jeremy noticed him entering the shop and tried to hide behind a newspaper. The manager came over and sat in the chair beside him and unfortunately he soon recognized Jeremy.

The boss called out to him, "Hi, Denton, I see that you're having your hair cut in office time."

"Yes, sir, I am," answered Jeremy. "The thing is, my hair also keeps growing in office time."

"Certainly not all of it," said the boss. "Some of it grows in your free time."

"Yes, sir, that's right," answered Jeremy respectfully "but I'm not having it all cut off."
