My sister is an amazing woman and I'm extremely proud (0) of her. She's had a difficult life with a lot of problems to deal (1) with. What's more, she's not always had friends who she could get help (2) from. She works as a researcher and is trying to find a cure for some serious diseases. Our parents didn't agree (3) with her choice of career and didn't support her either, but she always believed (4) in herself. I haven't seen her for a few years as I have been living abroad but I'm going to have a meal with her tomorrow. We're going to our favourite restaurant and I'm sure it will have been worth waiting (5) for.
