Subject: Thank you!

Dear Auntie Sonia,

Thank you for the books you kindly gave me for my birthday. I was too excited after my party to read, but I am going to start a book tonight.

How did you know that Francesca Simon was my favourite fiction writer? I love reading about her characters and their adventures. They make me laugh so hard. Do you think I'm like Horrid Henry or Perfect Peter?

I am really interested in cars and the non-fiction book about cars is amazing. I really like the section on huge, powerful cars! When I grow up I want to drive a bright red, fast, powerful sports car. Thank you again.

Lots of love,
Arturo

Dear Sir,

I am writing to complain about the fact that some letters that were posted from your area took over five weeks to reach me. A number of letters were written and posted on the same day. The first arrived within ten days of being posted, but the last of these letters took nearly four times as long.

These letters were very important to me for they were written by people I care about. I am away from my home at the moment so it is particularly important to me that I receive letters promptly.

I would be grateful for an explanation about why some of these letters took so long.

Yours faithfully,
Sonia Sabella

Dear Class 3,

Yesterday, my sister looked after my mother for the day, so Arturo and I went for a day out in London. We had a very enjoyable time.

First, we went to see Buckingham Palace, where Queen Elizabeth lives. It's a huge house. Arturo and I counted 68 windows! Why do you imagine the Queen and her husband need that many rooms?

After leaving the palace, we strolled in the sun beside the River Thames. It's a very wide river and it's extremely busy with ships, speedboats, water taxis and water buses. There are even river police!

Then we went to Westminster and saw the Houses of Parliament. This is where the government makes the laws in the UK. The Houses of Parliament are next to the Thames.

Finally, we went across Westminster Bridge for a ride on the London Eye. This was Arturo's favourite part of the day! The London Eye is a massive wheel. You've probably seen it on TV because they set off fireworks from the London Eye for important celebrations. You can see some excellent views of London from the top.

I hope you are working hard and learning lots of things. I miss you all.

From,
Mrs Sabella
