Exercise 1: Reading

"The Science Fair Challenge"

Tom is 14 years old and studies in middle school. Every year, his school organizes a science fair. Tom believes he can win this year. He works very hard every day.

Tom begins his project in January. He builds a small robot with simple materials. His sister helps him carry the tools. His father checks his work at night.

One morning, a small problem arises. The robot does not move correctly. Tom feels nervous, but he does not give up. He asks his teacher for advice.

The teacher answers his questions kindly. She allows him to use the school lab. Tom fixes the broken part. Everything begins to work again.

His friends sometimes argue about ideas. But Tom stays calm. He chooses the best design. He cleans and changes some details.

On the day of the event, many students arrive early. Parents and teachers appear excited. Tom carries his robot carefully. He feels ready.

The judges ask many questions. Tom answers confidently. His robot moves and beats the other projects. Everyone smiles.

At the end, Tom becomes the winner. He achieves his goal. His parents feel proud. Tom learns that hard work brings success.

That day, Tom learned an important lesson. Problems appeared, but he did not give up. He achieved his goal.
