Section R1 (12 marks)

Read the passages about Anya and Bruce and answer the questions. For each question, choose either A(Anya) or B(Bruce). You need to choose each person more than once.

Anya (A)

My name's Anya and I grew up in a town in Spain but now I live in an English village with my sister. I love animals and have cats and rabbits at home. I work in an office next to the village school. It is too far to walk so I take the bus to work. On their birthdays, I give my friends jewellery that I have made. I'm really excited because I'm visiting France this summer.

Bruce (B)

I'm Bruce and I live with my wife in a large town in England. We have two children, a girl and a boy. We live in a flat so we can't have any pets. I teach at a school in the town. I get a train there every morning. I used to go to the gym but I don't have time for hobbies now! In August we're going to the English coast for a beach holiday.

Which person, A(Anya) or B(Bruce),...

Free Flying

Many people understand how important free flying is for pet birds. This is when they fly outside and return to their owner. It can be challenging to train birds to do this. In the UK, between 50 and 100 pet owners free fly their birds, giving them a more natural life.

Chloe Brown has had her parrot, Motley, since he was around five months old. It took her a year to train Motley. At first, Chloe trained him inside, only taking him outside when she was confident he understood he needed to return. She never used food to get him to come back. Motley loves Chloe so he always returns to her. Motley also loves this activity and now he knocks on the window when he wants to go out. Chloe takes him to the countryside, to places which he will find interesting.

There is always a danger that parrots will fly off. Molly and her parrot, Jekyll, recently got lost on a mountain in Wales. Usually, Jekyll is happy to fly free. He often does this in their garden, but this time some bigger birds attacked him and he flew away. Molly climbed the mountain to get Jekyll. The weather was good, but they got lost and couldn't get home. Molly quickly phoned for help. The parrot said 'hello' when the team arrived to save them!
