QUANTIFIERS

What are Quantifiers?

Quantifiers tell us how many people or things there are.
They are used with plural nouns.

Structure: Quantifier + plural noun

Examples:
- Many families live in this neighborhood.
- Some children go to school by bus.
- Few people understand this rule.
- Some parents work from home.
- Few teenagers read newspapers.
- All students are ready.

When do we use 'OF'?

We use OF when we talk about:
- A specific group
- Possessive adjectives (my, your, their…)
- Pronouns (them, us…)

Structure: Quantifier + of + determiner/pronoun

Examples:
- Many of my cousins live in Bogotá.
- Some of the parents are teachers.
- Most of them are married.
- A lot of the children play soccer.
- Few of us understand the problem.

NOT correct: ~~Many my cousins~~/~~Some them~~

LIVEWORKSHEETS

Exercise 1 – Choose the correct quantifier

1. _____ families in this city have two children.
a) Many
b) Much

2. _____ people in my family live abroad.
a) Some
b) Any

3. _____ children in this school wear uniforms. (100%)
a) All
b) Few

4. _____ teenagers get married before 18. (almost 0%)
a) Few
b) Most

Exercise 2 – Complete with the correct quantifier. Use: many – some – few – all – no – most

1. _____ families celebrate Christmas together.
2. _____ people in my neighborhood are elderly.
3. _____ children in my class are absent today.
4. _____ parents love their children.
5. _____ students understand the homework.

Exercise 3 – Write OF or X (no OF)

1. Many _____ my cousins live in Cali.
2. Some _____ the students are tired.
3. Most _____ families are small today.
4. Few _____ them are married.
5. A lot _____ the children are playing.

Exercise 4 – Correct the sentence

1. Many my cousins are teachers. _____
2. Some them are doctors. _____
3. Few of families are large. _____
4. Most of people are friendly. _____
5. A lot the children are here. _____

LIVEWORKSHEETS