Fill in the gaps with: much, many, few, a few, little, a little, some, any, no.

1. I don't know _____ words in Japanese, but I'd like to learn more.
2. How _____ languages do you study at school?
3. There are _____ students in our class who can speak French fluently.
4. I know _____ German—just enough to introduce myself.
5. There isn't _____ time to practise languages during the school day.
6. She has _____ problems with pronunciation; she learns very quickly.
7. Do you have _____ dictionaries I could borrow?
8. My friend speaks _____ Italian because she lived in Rome for a year.
9. We don't have _____ homework today, so I might study vocabulary.
10. There are only _____ languages that use the Cyrillic alphabet in Europe.
11. I tried to remember the words, but _____ of them stayed in my head.
12. Are there _____ language clubs in your school?
13. He has _____ interest in learning Chinese; he prefers Spanish.
14. _____ people find it easy to learn grammar rules.
15. We need _____ more examples to understand this tense.
16. I don't have _____ questions about this chapter.
17. She can speak _____ words of Estonian, but not enough for a conversation.
18. They learnt _____ new phrases during the exchange trip.
19. The teacher said we made _____ mistakes in our test this time.
20. I have _____ idea how to pronounce this word!
21. There weren't _____ seats left in the language workshop.
22. I know _____ students who practise languages every day.
23. Is there _____ information about the exam on the website?
24. We had _____ time before the lesson, so we revised vocabulary.
25. _____ of the students wanted to take part in the language competition.
26. I didn't learn _____ new grammar today; the lesson was mostly review.
27. She brought _____ delicious snacks to share during the cultural day.
28. Do you speak _____ other languages besides English?
29. There is _____ reason to give up—you're improving!
30. I forgot _____ of the words we learned yesterday.

(Exercise created by Copilot)

LIVEWORKSHEETS