MEETING A FRIEND

Last year I had a most enjoyable experience when I met somebody I had been writing to (25) _____ over seven years. When I was about twelve years old one of the teachers at school asked if anyone wanted to have an English pen-friend. I had recently begun learning English and as I was (26) _____ it rather difficult I thought this might help me. A few weeks later the teacher gave me the address of a boy who lived in Leeds. We began to write to (27) _____ straight away and usually exchanged letters about twice a month. We often wrote that we would like to meet but, unfortunately, this was never possible. (28) _____, last year I was sent on a two-week course in London by my firm. There was a great deal of work to do and I did not have (29) _____ time free but on the second weekend my friend came to see me. I wondered if we would really like each other when we met. Fortunately, there was absolutely nothing to worry about, we had been writing for so long that it was like meeting an old friend. We had a meal together and spent the whole of the day talking about our shared interests. I hope we will be able to meet again soon.

Read the following passage and mark the letter A, B, C, or D on your answer sheet to indicate the correct answer to each of the questions.

Hue, a city in central Viet Nam, is well-known for its traditional conical hats, also called 'non la'. These hats have been an important part of Vietnamese culture for many years.

In Hue, conical hat making is a traditional craft that has been passed down for centuries. Various villages around Hue, such as Da Le, Phu Cam, and Doc So, are know for their skilled artisans who create these iconic hats. However, Tay Ho Village, situated along the Nhu Y River, stands out as the birthplace of the conical hat in Hue.

Crafting these hats may seem simple at first glance, but it actually involves 15 stages, from collecting leaves from the forest to ironing them, and constructing the frames. The artisans in Hue are known for their exceptional skill in creating conical hats with two delicate layers of leaves. What makes these hats unique is the addition of poems and paintings of Hue between the layers, making them not only a practical accessory but also a symbol of Hue's rich history and traditions. The conical hat remains a lasting symbol of Vietnamese identity and craftsmanship, and in Hue, it reflects the city's cultural pride and heritage.
